

Comb Farms For Winter Help For Essential Posts

P. J. Tod, manager of the national selective service office, Newmarket, stated this week that many more men from the farms, who can be spared for the winter months, are needed for jobs in other essential industries. A minimum of 150,000 men are needed, and while the response has been encouraging, requirements have not by any means been met.

"Instructions have now been received here, issued by Arthur MacNamara, director of national selective service at Ottawa, that each local office is to intensify its efforts to induce more men to accept work off the farm for the winter.

"The director's instructions emphasize the following points:

"(1) While men from the farms are urgently needed elsewhere, no man should leave agriculture if he is needed as a farm worker for the winter.

"(2) Men will, of course, return to the farm once again, when their services are required there.

"(3) Men will be paid the regular wages for whatever job they accept and transportation will be provided free if a distance has to be travelled.

"(4) Workers from the farm, already given postponement under the military call-up by reason of being farmers, will continue on postponement if they leave the farm to take other approved essential employment for the winter.

"In communicating with selective service offices, Mr. MacNamara said: 'This appeal to workers not

Public Schools Grant Is $1,100 More Than In 1942

Four public school board trustees will be elected this year, three to serve two years, and one to serve one year. Secretary R. L. Pritchard stated at a board meeting in the King George school on Friday evening.

The terms of Frank Bothwell, Mr. J. C. R. Edwards and R. L. Pritchard expire this year.

The fourth vacancy is caused by the resignation of F. L. J. A. Koffend, who has been chairman of the board since his election a year ago. "It is with regret that I find it now necessary to submit my resignation as a member of the board," Mr. Koffend wrote. "I am sure that you will understand that my position as chairman of His Majesty's forces makes any other affiliation difficult."

Mr. Pritchard informed the board that the Ontario government grant for this year amounted to $3,456, or $1,100 more than last year.

Principal H. A. Jackson reported that the enrolment in October was 568, or six more than in September, and "is still going up." Average attendance in October was 535.

T. E. Woodruff was appointed caretaker of the Alexander Muir school. Vice-chairman Frank Bothwell presided.

Charles Lepard Was 68, Lived Here 20 Years

In poor health for several months, Charles Albert Lepard died at his home in Newmarket on Nov. 10. Born near Ravenshoe Dec. 23, 1874, he was the son of Juliet Willson and Silas Lepard of East Gwillimbury. He married Eva Maud Smockum of Hartman, March 16, 1898, and farmed at Zephyr. Mr. and Mrs. Lepard moved to Newmarket over 20 years ago.

Mr. Lepard was an elder of Trinity United church, Newmarket.

Surviving beside his wife are three brothers, Willson, Newmarket; Ben, Great Falls, Montana; and Frank, Sask., and two sisters, Mrs. David G.raham (Mary), Zephyr; and Mrs. Elizabeth Jones, Detroit.

Rev. Henry Cotton conducted the funeral service at the chapel of Roadhouse and Rose on Saturday afternoon. Interment was in Newmarket cemetery.

The pallbearers were Harvey McCordick, Albert Mills, William Maines, Charles Willis, Fred Chantler and William Morton.

R. C. STUDENTS HONOR GREAT WAR'S FALLEN

In a spirit of gratitude to those who made sacrifices in the first world war the pupils of St. John's parish observed Remembrance day. The children proceeded to the memorial at 3 p.m. led by Melfort McCaffrey carrying a large flag, and accompanied by Rev. Dr. W. D. Muckle.

Assembled already were representatives of the Newmarket Veterans, Charles Hays and George Wales, Roman Catholic students and Air Cadets in uniform from the high school, parents and friends.

The pupils quickly drew up in V-formation before the monument, and Thomas McHale laid at the monument a wreath from the children of St. John's parish.

There followed a two minutes silence.

"Today the flower of our country's manhood is giving all in the cause of freedom, freedom of religion, freedom from want, freedom from fear and freedom of speech," said James Insley, a St. John's school student. "Many of you realize this with all the penetrating forcefulness that danger to loved ones can bring to bear on you. Probably there are only a few of you who have not experienced the heartbreak of parting with a near relative or friend for service in our country's cause."

"While our memories portray for us so vividly and realistically the horrors of the present conflict, it is easier for us to do justice to the heroes of another time and of another struggle. During the war of 1914 to 1918, others with future prospects bright left all to answer their country's call, offered everything to preserve for us the way of life we hold so dear. Thousands carried their willingness as far as the supreme sacrifice. The wreath we place today on the monument is a symbol of the gratitude we feel toward them."

"Let us now pay another most deserving tribute. Among those who struggled to preserve our sacred rights in the first world war many there were called upon to strain to the utmost their noble spirit of sacrifice. Can we ever estimate the price they paid for freedom, can we hope to measure the price paid in hours of suffering endured by bruised and broken bodies? Only God in His justice knows what our veterans have paid and are still paying in the cause of freedom. As a concrete testimonial of our gratitude we take pleasure in making a contribution this Remembrance day to the Veterans' fund."

"Finally, if, in keeping with this observance, we were to seek a message which could act as a force for good in promoting the cause for which others have died and for which others are still suffering, I wonder if we would not find it in the words spoken by Winston Churchill at Quebec:

"We took on this task because duty and honor called us to it, and we shall keep on till we have finished the job. It is not given to the cleverest and most brilliant of men to know with certainty the day. Yet it is given to any simple person to know every day what is his duty, and that is the path along which the British empire and the great republic of the United States, the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, the indomitable people of China, all the United Nations shall march until our work is done and we may rest from our labors and the whole world may turn to science, to good sense and dear-bought experience from the war for lasting peace."

James Insley then presented Mr. Wales with a cheque. At the request of Mr. Wales, Dr. Muckle expressed thanks for the generous contribution made. "Not only should the deeds of the dead be remembered with gratitude, but there should be an ever-ready willingness to show appreciation to the veterans by extending to them a helping hand and by visiting them in their sufferings," said Dr. Muckle.

After Thomas McHale made a brief speech, the pupils of St. John's school sang "A Pledge of Allegiance," giving the salute to the flag at its close. "God Save the King" followed. Then Pte. One O'Brien, bugler from the military camp, sounded "The Last Post."

SHIFT CLASSES, OPEN ROOM, EASE CROWDING

Another room has been opened at the Stuart Scott school, with Mrs. Constance Gargill in charge as supply teacher until the end of the year.

Principal H. A. Jackson gives the following explanation: "During the past year attendance in Newmarket public schools has increased. With one less teacher on the staff than formerly, over-crowding has resulted in some of the classrooms. Particularly is this the case in grades four and five in the King George school and in the same grades in the Alexander Muir school. Registrations of 47, 49 and 50 occur in three rooms."

"To overcome this situation it has become necessary to re-open the third room in the Stuart Scott school, which was closed in October, 1942, due to the enlistment of a member of the staff. Parents and guardians are requested to co-operate in this move for the betterment of conditions in our schools and to relieve a circumstance beyond anyone's control."

Grade four and part of grade five in the King George school has been transferred to the Stuart Scott school, and part of grade five in the Alexander Muir school has been transferred to the King George school.

FATHER AND SON GIVE LIVES IN TWO WARS

Born in Newmarket, the son of a Newmarket soldier who lost his life in the Great War, Sgt. F. C. Mee died of wounds in the Mediterranean zone a little over a year ago. He was just a youngster when his family left Newmarket to live in England.

His mother, Mrs. Norris Charles Mee, lives in Nottingham, Man. His father, Sgt. N. C. Mee, was killed in action on the Somme in June, 1916. Living in Newmarket, Sgt. N. C. Mee enlisted in 1915 for service with the 48th Highlanders.

Francis Charles Mee, who has now also given his life, was born in Newmarket at about the time his father was reported killed. His mother left Newmarket about 1922. Two older brothers, Wilfred and Norris, are serving with the British army. He also leaves a wife and baby daughter.

The above picture was sent by Mrs. Mee to Mrs. Robt. W. Jones, 13 Tecumseh St., Newmarket, an old friend. Mr. Jones was wounded and taken prisoner in the Battle of the Somme, the same time as Sgt. N. C. Mee was killed. Mr. Jones was a prisoner for two years and three months.

MAYOR THINKS LOW TAX RATE UNDESIRABLE

A by-law setting Nov. 26 as nomination night for Newmarket, was passed at a town council meeting on Monday evening. If an election is necessary, it will be held on Dec. 6, between 10 a.m. and 7 p.m.

Owing to the resignation of Rev. J. A. Koffend, a school trustee for a one-year term will be elected. Three school trustees for a two-year period will also be elected.

Mayor Dr. L. W. Dales asked the members of the town council their intentions regarding candidature for next year's council.

Reeve Fred A. Lundy and Deputy-Reeve Arthur D. Evans said that they would offer their services again. Councillor Joseph Vale hoped to be back next year, but Councillors J. L. Spillette and Wm. Dixon would not commit themselves.

"I'm ready if wanted," said Councillor A. V. Higinson.

Councillor Frank Bowser did not think he would be a candidate, owing to the pressure of business.

"The experience I have gained has been to my benefit," said Councillor J. A. Perks. "I would like to serve again."

Clerk N. L. Mathews, K.C., told the council that he thought they had done "a very good job," and hoped they would all be back next year.

"Everyone should have something to do during war-time," said Mr. Lundy. "I think all those who have served on the council at any time should offer their time and experience to the town."

"It has been a pleasant year," said Dr. Dales, indicating that his services would again be available. "We have been able to discuss things thoroughly. I appreciate very much the co-operation and loyalty of the council."

"The town is in splendid shape financially. I hope that next year's council doesn't try to set the tax rate any lower than it is now."

Dr. Dales expressed thanks to The Era and Express for "accurate reports and good news coverage."

Say It Would Be Tough If Farmer Paid By Hour

The Newmarket East Radio Forum met on Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce McNern, 4th line, East Gwillimbury, with an increased attendance.

"Prices and Planning" was the theme of the CBC broadcast Mrs. McNern was the convener of the farm forum discussion and Miss Feldman secretary. Two groups reported findings. They decided that prices did play an important part in farm planning. More direct distribution of food to the consumer, a pooling of products, co-operative buying and selling would cut out high costs of production. If the farmer sought a price return for his labor per hour, in equality with other classes, and interest on investment, it would be all the low-income consumer could do to buy food in these days, it was reported.

The farmer should have an income that would allow him to pay help on a par with other industries, it was said. With the curtailment of the manufacture of electrical supplies, machinery, cars, etc., all people, not only farmers, should be able to build up a reserve and have a purchasing power after the war. This would help employment and prevent a recurrence of a depression period.

The next meeting will be held at the W. H. Wilnot home on Monday. Wesley Eves will be the convener.

Industries To Employ Returning Soldiers Needed, Says Vale

"The municipal minister announced this morning that he is getting a movement under way for post-war work," Reeve Fred A. Lundy told Newmarket town council at a meeting on Monday evening.

"The Newmarket committee has agreed that there should be considerable sidewalk laid, a new parking system and an incinerator system in its post-war planning," said Mr. Lundy.

"I think our post-war planning as far as public works are concerned should be very extensive," added Mayor Dr. L. W. Dales. "There is a great need for sidewalk and road improvements. We need an incinerator system, a new parking system. The town parks need improving. The lighting system could be improved. We need a technical school and we will have to give assistance with the enlargement of the hospital. But I question whether the government will subsidize us for public works."

"Can we do any planning until the prime minister make his announcement?" asked Councillor Wm. Dixon.

"Every municipality should have a program mapped out for the employment of the boys coming home after the war," said Mr. Lundy.

"A public works program will only employ them for three or four months," said Councillor Jos. Vale. "We want more assurance than that. We should be working now to establish permanent industries here after the war."

"I think there will be a standing army, and they will release only a small number of soldiers at a time," said Dr. Dales. "There is lots to be done if we have the labor and the money."

"It would be a good idea if we allotted money in the budget to employ someone to study the government's post-war plans, to ensure having permanent industries established here," said Mr. Vale.

Mr. Vale thought that after the war there should be greater competition between municipalities for industries and the municipality that got in on the ground floor would have a better chance.

"We have a lot of boys who are coming home," said Mr. Vale.

"We are not going to compete with other municipalities," said Dr. Dales. "We are going to carry on in the same even way we are doing now."

"We should have been studying it," said Mr. Vale. "The government won't ask the boys to come back to no jobs."

"I don't think the council could put it in better hands than it is now," said Deputy-Reeve Arthur D. Evans, referring to the fact that Mr. Vale is chairman of the industrial committee. "We should compensate someone to study the situation."

CONTROL OF FOREST RESOURCES

As part of its forestry policy—or maybe of its post-war employment policy—the Drew government has announced that in the future no one will be allowed to erect a larger saw-mill in any district than can be indefinitely supplied by the forest area which it serves. The explanation given is that in the past in some instances an operator has erected too large a mill, with the result that in five, ten or 15 years it had denuded the area of timber. Unemployment would then follow in the mill town and district.

Under the new plan the mill would be of a size that could be kept going permanently with proper forest control and care. That is common-sense government control of business, and it is one of an increasing number of illustrations which we are going to have to that to campaign for so-called "freedom of enterprise" is to look out through the windows of a Victorian house. We are moving into a controlled economy, and a lot pleasanter it will be for everybody.

HOW LARGE A HOSPITAL?

(Huntsville Forester)
We are glad to have the frank opinion expressed in this issue by a supporter of the proposed hospital project. When the matter was under discussion in this column last week, we suggested that a 100-room building might be required. We also pointed out that such an undertaking was almost startling in its magnitude and cost.

Our judgment was based upon the anticipated enlargement of hospital demands, under a system which will make hospitalization available to any and every citizen.

It is true that no definite pronouncement has yet been made by the government as to what their policy may be, but there is assurance that consideration is being given to the whole problem, and ultimately a definite policy will be worked out. In a note to this office this week, Hon. R. P. Vivian, minister of health, says: "I hope that complete details of our plan can be given to the public at an early date." This gives assurance that the government are studying the problem seriously, and that we may hope to know very shortly the plan they will adopt.

Meantime, we need not be too much concerned over the size of the building needed here. It may conceivably be of smaller dimensions than suggested last week. We hope this may be the case.

In any event, the important matter at the moment is that a hospital building is needed, and badly, and whether it be a 20-room or a 50-room structure, when the government policy is known, and we are safely assured of the ground we are taking, we shall all buckle on our armor and reach the objective we have before us.

It is quite conceivable that the proposal of a 100-room hospital is a little visionary, and involves obligations which might be regarded as impracticable. But this does not remove the urgency of the problem, nor dispose of the fact that whatever solution is found, we shall have to face very definite commitments as a town and community.

THE COMMON ROUND WITH THE YOUNG PEOPLE

At Pleasantville and Bogartown we are basking in reflected glory, for our Girls Homecoming Club have come home from Achievement day laden with honors.

All year these young people cook and sew and study and garden to uphold the honor of their club, which has always done well, and to gain new laurels for it.

Their books are marvels of neatness and artistry as they illustrate the different work they take up; their darning is a work of art and they are preparing to give a demonstration on "Vegetables for the Family," at the convention in Toronto on the 11th. But to return to Achievement day.

They prepared their vegetables, their books and their sewing to be displayed; their Victory gardens had been judged previously, although the results were not made known then, but counted in with each club's total.

I saw Huldah Starr's vegetables, as they would be shown at Richmond Hill. She had decorated an orange box with orange and green crepe paper, and on and in this was a sample of almost every kind of vegetable, scrubbed within an inch of its life and looking very proud and haughty in consequence. There was also a jar of tomatoes, whole, and canned in the juice of other tomatoes—very pretty to look at and I'm sure, tasting equally good.

I did not see the other girls' exhibits, but if this was a fair sample, they were well worth seeing, and they must have been for the girls came home with the silver cup—a trophy for excellence, which is to be won each year by the club with most members completing the course. Huldah Starr captured the silver pitcher, which is for individual excellent work and ranks next to the trip to Chicago. Irene Harper and Doris Penrose won provincial honors for completing 12 projects and Huldah won county honors in completion of six projects.

Those who attended Achievement day were Mrs. Harry Penrose, Mrs. Harry Hunt and the Misses Huldah Starr, Doris Penrose, Mar-

NEWMARKET, AURORA MEMORIALS Praised

The following address, entitled "Memorial on Remembrance Day," was given by Mrs. A. D. Evans at the devotional meeting of the St. Paul's Anglican Women's Auxiliary last Thursday.

"I thought it would be fitting to again this year, as I did last, recall to our minds certain facts about Canada's memorial to the 665,000 men of our dominion who died on active service during the Great War, and where many more names, alas, will be added after this second part is over," said Mrs. Evans.

"I refer, of course, to the Peace Tower of the houses of parliament at Ottawa. You will recall that the former houses of parliament were destroyed by fire in 1916, and when the new and present structure was designed, and built, the Peace Tower was suggested as a memorial to those who gave their lives in the war, with its altar and Book of Remembrance, containing the 69,000 names of the men who gave their lives that we might live in peace in Canada—the peace which thousands more are now fighting to retain.

"I thought it particularly fitting that we should refresh our memories today—since exactly 25 years ago the Armistice was signed, Nov. 11, 1918. The Book of Remembrance, when at last completed, was dedicated by the governor-general, the Earl of Athlone. It is our tribute also to the 'unknown soldier,' this Peace Tower, and it has for our nation the significance the cenotaph in London has for those who live in the British Isles, though the cenotaph is the representative shrine for all the British empire.

"The Book of Remembrance rests in its glass case on the altar and a fresh page is turned over every day so that people who have relatives among the fallen heroes recorded there will be given an opportunity to see their names.

"The casket in its glass case stands in this raised altar in the centre of the memorial chamber in a raised dais, approached from all sides. Beautifully wrought iron gates guard the outer entrance to the chamber. From the Gothic arch of the inner entrance is suspended a large solid silver Mother's cross, which every woman received who lost a son, husband or father on active service in the last Great War.

"I wonder if one might digress here and add a personal note, for speaking of the Mother's cross I am reminded of the four mothers who sat quite near each other in our church here Sunday after Sunday, all of whom lost a son, and received the Mother's cross, and of whom only one now remains. I refer, of course, to my husband's mother, Mrs. Joseph Evans. The other three you will readily recall, Mrs. W. A. Brunton, Mrs. C. G. Ross and Mrs. T. J. Robertson, all of whom were such ardent workers in the Red Cross and field comforts organizations in the last war.

"Might I add another well-remembered name to that list of faithful war workers, Miss Nellie Forsythe, a late W.A. member, who for years conducted the Poppy Day collection and to whom we are indebted, with Mrs. E. J. Hill, for the first Union Jack that flew from the flagstaff in Memorial park, opposite our church.

"I think it most fitting that we should recall faithful workers such as these on such an occasion as this, for it was to us, in the second great war, that they threw the torch and it is for us to bear it high and keep faith with them.

"And that reminds me of our civic war memorial in the plot of ground over the way, with the artist's conception of a Belgian peasant woman standing on the brink of the future, looking for the day when war should be no more.

"It is, as you all know, one of the first pieces of sculpture done by a Newmarket young man,

Mr. Alvin Hills, and is unique in the way of memorials. It honors the names of our 40 Newmarket men who paid the supreme sacrifice.

"Then Newmarket has still another memorial, besides the memorials placed in our different churches, with their rolls of honor. I refer to the memorial gates at the high school, which are very fine as well. Everywhere you go you see war memorials—I need only mention one or two as representative.

"One I recall is a beautiful representation of a soldier standing on guard, in the Eugenia park, near Eugenia Falls, where the Hydro has harnessed the water-power to give light to all that section near Collingwood and Meaford and Stayner. Then I recall another at the crossroads near Mono Mills and Caledon East, enclosed by an iron railing.

"There is one at Bradford that never is without its memorial wreaths, a beautiful one at Oshawa called 'The Garden of the Unforgotten.' It is considered one of the most distinctive and beautiful of all Canadian memorials found in Canada. Like the memorial of perpetual light at Aurora it has similarly two perpetual lights that are never allowed to be out by day or night.

"And that recalls the county memorial at Aurora with its beacon of unflinching light. I need scarcely tell any of my hearers about it. Still I wish to pay the tribute of a word or two to this wonderful memorial, so dear to all of us, many of whom no doubt were, like myself, at its unveiling by Sir Wm. Mulock.

"It stands alone, on rising ground below Aurora, a field which is gradually being beautified into a pleasant spot with trees, the absence of which, when it was erected, was so noticeable.

"The memorial itself is a 70-foot shaft of grey granite mounted in a base about 30 feet square, while the battlement at the top can't be more than six feet square. Rising above the northwest corner is a lantern of solid bronze, carrying four electric lamps of high voltage, the light in which shines forth every evening till dawn.

"One dreads to think of the long lists of names that, after this present war, will be added to the lists on our present war memorials, and to our honor rolls."

SAYS HITLER TRIED TO INVADE BRITAIN

"The young fellow of today is as good as the old boy of yesterday," Lieut. F. J. White, of Newmarket training centre, told Newmarket Lions club last week.

Great War veterans were guests of many of the club members for the evening. President Fred Thompson presided over the dinner meeting in St. Paul's parish hall. Alex. Eves, a veteran, introduced the speaker.

Telling of his experiences overseas with the 48th Highlanders, Lieut. White, a veteran of both wars, told of arriving in a camp in Britain commanded by General Montgomery. "He put us to work, night and day," said the speaker.

"We weren't at Dunkirk, but we did go to France," said Lieut. White, telling how an officer with a Tommy-gun persuaded the French train engineer to take them back to the coast when France collapsed.

"I lived through the Battle of Britain," he related. "I have seen 500, 600, 700 planes in the air at one time, and it's not a pleasant feeling when you can't fight back.

"If you have ever seen wreckage, England has it," he said. "The civilian population could really take it. It is something worth-while to see people come up out of a shelter in the morning, see their houses have been destroyed and then smile.

"We didn't like being kept two and a half years in Britain, but a good soldier puts up with that sort of thing. It was a war of

Teachers Take Pulpit, Mark Education Week

To mark the close of Education Week, Sunday services were conducted entirely by teachers from the public and high schools. At the morning service Mrs. Marian Proctor Stone, Ralph Rumball and Robert Dick were in charge.

Mr. Rumball, the speaker, brought out some startling facts regarding the lack of Christian education in the schools. "Out of 190 days in the school year we give our children at least five hours a day of secular education, as against less than five minutes a day of Biblical teaching," he said. "In the sixth grade reader, ten pages are devoted to Biblical passages as against 169 pages set aside for myths and fables.

"As a people, we are keenly interested in giving the child an education which will better fit him for this life, the temporal, but we sadly neglect to give him Christian teaching, which will guide him in the spiritual things of life, which are eternal."

The same three teachers were in charge of the Sunday-school in the afternoon session. At the evening service Miss Esther McGee, Mr. Dick and Mr. Rumball conducted the service. Mr. Dick, the speaker, brought a clear-cut gospel message from St. John 3: 7, "Ye must be born again."

"Nicodemus, a Jewish ruler, felt there was something lacking in his life," said Mr. Dick. "He was worried about his eternal salvation. He brought his doubt and fears to Jesus and was told that the only way to be sure of his soul's salvation was to be born again, 'born of the spirit.'"

"Nicodemus desired to know how this thing would come to pass and found out that it was by believing on the Lord Jesus Christ. The penalty of our sin was paid by Jesus Christ on Calvary's tree. There remains nothing for the sinner to do, only believe.

"Martin Luther tried to work his way to heaven. When the truth of the verse, 'The just shall live by faith,' broke in upon his soul, then he believed, and the Protestant Reformation was the result.

"The rich young ruler thought he had 'to do something' to get to heaven and was amazed to find it could not be gained that way. It was simply a case of following Jesus, not of works, but of faith. 'By grace are ye saved through faith; and that not of yourselves: it is the gift of God. Not of works, lest any man should boast.'

"If we want eternal life we must gain it God's way or not at all. Jesus said: 'I am the way, the truth and the life, no man cometh unto the father, but by me.'

"Church membership, church ordinances, church rituals will never save a soul. Believing on the Lord Jesus Christ as a personal Saviour is the only cure for sin. He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved; but he that believeth not shall be damned."

nerves for Canadian troops, for they were charged with the responsibility of guarding Britain."

DO YOU EXPECT YOUR EYES TO ALWAYS SERVE YOU?

We seldom think of our eyesight until it shows signs of failing. Yet our eyes do grow older, and lose their efficiency. As lengthening evenings bring more reading, sewing and close work, we increase the burden on already over-worked eyes.

We are not surprised that people ask that question when they go into a store and find no "Neilson's" chocolate bars . . . and here is the reason:—There are so many more people buying chocolate bars today than ever before, that no sooner are the popular Neilson's high-quality favourites placed on sale than they are sold. DOWN THE CENTRE

Newmarket camp this winter will furnish canal-town and district sport fans with some real bang-up hockey, as good if not better than the fare provided last winter. The league has been somewhat revamped, being now composed solely of armored corps centres, both advanced and basic. That means that Midland Shipbuilders and Angus Bombers will have to obtain competition elsewhere. With the consent of Secretary W. A. Hewitt of the O.H.A. and with Lieut. Bill Hunnissett, former U.T.S. and Varsity goalie, as convenor, the black beret boys will form a separate O.H.A. intermediate A group, with the winner to go on in the semi-final round and to be known simply as Armored Corps.

A meeting of representatives of the teams concerned got together a few days ago and settled the preliminary details. Lieut. Kennedy of Newmarket, Major Adams of Brampton and Lieut. Frank Foster of Orillia represented the basic training centres and the four sports officers from Nos. 1, 2 and 3 armored training regiments and technical and schools wing of corps headquarters looked after the details for the four Camp Borden entries.

Games will be played on Tuesday and Thursday nights, commencing the first week in January, and a home and home series (or 12 games) for each team will be played, with the top four teams hitting the play-off jackpot. The Borden centres will play their home games in Barrie in most cases but with the heavy schedule may be forced to play some of them on outdoor rinks at Borden. The latter experiment, while nothing new for advanced training centres, would be a new one for the basic centres.

With Stan. Smith's igloo at their disposal for practice and games, the boys from No. 23 should have a big edge on their opponents. Orillia has a covered rink, too.

ago. Tommy Sills, outstanding defenseman with Angus Bombers last winter in the intermediate group, and a member of the R.C.A.F. since pre-war days, like Baker has finally been assigned to air crew and at Borden the same day received his wings.

Bruno Cavallo of Bradford, box lacrosse goalie, de luxe, who played both for Bradford and Orillia Terriers, arrived overseas a few weeks ago as a corporal with an infantry unit. His father, Charlie Cavallo, is one of the best known bowlers of the district.

Ren Brown, former Richmond Hill Roses third sacker and one of the all-time powerhouse hitters of York-Simcoe softball, writes from overseas, where he is with the dental corps, to tell what a big kick he got out of seeing Richmond Hill and other North York farm commandos in action on the home front, in a news-reel for Canadian troops. We bet the home folks looked a lot better to Ren than the fairest pin-up girl.

George Hainsworth, one of hockey's all time greats and probably right now, if the eyes were as keen as ever, capable of holding his own with the best goalies in professional hockey, has turned to the coaching end of things and is in charge of Brantford Lions. Al Murray, former New York American defence star, who coached Brantford last winter, is now handling the new Galt Junior A team.

Marj. McCannan, fresh from her triumphs on the softball diamond in Toronto, is taking another whirl at basketball. Last year she played with the club that sponsored the softball but this winter is a member of the Oakwood ladies' club in the intermediate L.O.B.A. series. The Oakwood club is a strong one, too, and one of the few girls' cage teams to be coached by a woman.

John Stuart continues to draw headlines as he builds up a fine racing stable for the '44 racing campaign. Latest purchase is the veteran steeple-chaser, Black Ned. The Aurora boy has announced his colors will be the royal Stuart tartan, which should create quite a stir on the track, besides forming an attractive color scheme. His newest purchase came, like most of his other horses, from the stable of Willie Morrissey.

Bob Gracie, former N.H.L. player, line-mate of Bill Thoms and "Dodger" Collings with West Toronto Juniors, and also brother-in-law of Bill Thoms, after being a pre-season hold-out, has signed for another season in the moneyed ranks and taken his place with the Pittsburgh Hornets.

Bryan Sharpless, former Richmond Hill boy who played short-stop for Richmond Hill hardballers and hockey for the Hill too, is now a flying officer with the R.C.A.F. at Ottawa. His brother, Herb, Sharpless, at one time played hardball for Aurora intermediates in the district circuit, while his wife, the former Margaret Smellie of Thornhill, was a well-known basketball player of other days for Richmond Hill high school.

Long a hockey stronghold, Cornwall, whose army team was in jeopardy for some days, has a bunch of fans who would be an asset to any municipality. An appeal was made for funds and over 800 people from a population of under 14,000 each purchased $5 worth of tickets in advance to pro-

Hogs brought $17.15 dressed-weight and a few sows were $13 dressed-weight.

but it is not in a class with the Newmarket edifice. Brampton, which won the group last winter, expects again to play their games at Georgetown arena. The latter rink is municipally owned and for years the council has been satisfied to hire a manager and give him a free hand to run the rink, the same system that is being tried out in Aurora this winter.

Army rules will make for a changing personnel for most of the teams throughout the winter. Only those in category classes or on staff will be in the steady performers class. As the boys proceed with their training they will play their part in the bigger game of which they are a part. The army has wisely, we think, put thumbs down on packed teams, and the shifting of players. Any transfers that are made will be legitimate ones in the interest of army efficiency.

The brand of hockey will be well worth whatever ante the fans are asked to pay and we should all be thankful that Canada's winter game will carry on and some amusement for long winter nights will be available. If need be, it is well to remember that we could get along without hockey or sports all together and, for that matter, sports writers, too.

Brampton camp, from all we can learn, has a fine list of players available for action at this stage.

Lloyd Finkbeiner of Army Daggers is on staff there, and we believe Teddy Lister and his sidekick, Joe Ianarelli, who sparked the group winners last winter, are also available, along with Donnie Campbell and "Bun" White of Owen Sound.

"Chirp" Branchley of Army Daggers, Cpl. Charlie Nesbitt and Lieut. Bert Shaw will form the nucleus of Jack McDonald's Redmen, while Orillia has Rome, Curran, Wainman and Lieut. Mac Craig from last year ready for action. Just what talent is available for the advanced centres remains to be seen.

No. 2 training regiment, who played last winter as A9 Rams, has Reg. Westbrooke of Collingwood and Toronto army fame, Lieut. "Nip" Spooner, R.S.M. Eddie Burke and Lieut. George Fennel of last season awaiting action. The other centres have much hidden talent on hand but are not in a position yet to know who will be ready for the opening game.

With the teams all from the same corps, added zest should be given the games, with the corps title at stake as well as the group honors. The meetings on the ice should do much to develop co-operation and esprit d'corps among the armored corps boys.

Angus Bombers, coached by Cpl. Howard Leonard, former Aurora resident, and with Stan. Evans and "Red" Mathewson, two former Newmarket boys, on their lineup, will play in another Borden O.H.A. group, which will include No. 1 R.C.A.F. provost corps, ordnance, infantry, engineers and other units. While a good many former professional players are stationed at Borden, it is not likely many of them will be there for the winter and no team is counting on them as regulars.

Neil Colville, the former New York Rangers star, now with service corps, is expected to transfer to the R.C.A.F. any day now and the same goes for Douglas of Detroit. Despite press reports to the contrary, neither boy figured on playing the season with Army Daggers.

Mercantile hockey got off to a fine start in Toronto over the weekend and a host of familiar names and faces, some endeared to the hearts of North Yorkers, are in action again. "Ginger" Hall, who more than any other player, made an intermediate title a reality for Sutton Greenshirts two years ago, is once again performing in the nets.

"Wild" Bill Roberts, former Newmarket Redman, already a returned veteran of the present conflict, is again bashing the opposing forwards to the four corners of the rink. Bill was also a member of the Sutton Greenshirts.

Phil Vitale, original member of the first hockey team from Newmarket camp, and an outstanding hardballer in the Newmarket town league, runs Roberts a close race for the honor of being the badman of the commercial series. (Phil, a member of the Queen's York Rangers active unit, has been transferred back to Toronto from the Maritimes.)

Johnny MacPherson, former Aurora Lee Junior, later a member of that strong Willowdale intermediate team which eliminated Newmarket back in 1923, when Lionel Conacher and other big shots formed a team to win intermediate honors but were eliminated by Guelph, is a team-mate of Roberts and as effective as ever. These are but a few of the boys in action.

Over in Buffalo, N.Y., Graham Teasdale is starting his third year as a hockey official in the minor professional circuit as well as coaching a senior team in his spare time.

Austin Baker, former Markham Junior, who three years ago set up a junior group scoring record as a member of the famous Bangay-Lawrie-Baker line, received his pilot's wings at Hagersville R.C.A.F. centre on Friday. Baker, who has been on ground crew duties the past two years, transferred to air crew a few months

TOWN PAYS REBATE CLAIM OF OTTAWA

A motion was passed at a Newmarket town council meeting on Monday evening, instructing N. L. Mathews, K.C. town clerk and solicitor, to credit the department of national defence with $795.36, the amount claimed by the department for overcharge on electric power at the Newmarket military camp.

Deputy-Reeve Arthur Evans told the council that if they employed an expert to look into it the experts' findings would have to have the approval of the government inspector, and the town would have to pay for both the government inspection and their own.

"It would probably cost us around $1,000," said Mr. Evans. Mr. Evans said there was no question that the meters were improperly connected. The matter was left with the light and water committee.

NEW FALL... NECKWEAR

What are we going to do about the fire brigade going to out-of-town fires? Reeve Fred A. Lundy asked the members of Newmarket town council at a meeting on Monday evening. "They have cost us $200 or $300 and we do not get compensated for them. Should Newmarket assume responsibility for outside fires?"

The councillors thought that the fire brigade and the municipalities should work out an agreement.

"They can get fire protection cheaper from us," said Mayor Dr. L. W. Dales. "I think they should be required to take more responsibility."

"I never give the brigade permission to go unless the fire is of a serious nature," said Dr. Dales. "Then I know where I can get hold of them if we need them in Newmarket, or we can get the Aurora brigade if we need them."

"But we can't get back to town in less than half an hour," said Mr. Bowser.

"We are under obligation to them," said Dr. Dales. "The best plan would be to have them help provide us with another truck."

"We have two fire apparatuses," said Mr. Bowser.

"If we could get a panel truck it would be all right," said Deputy-Reeve Arthur D. Evans.

"You'll run into the same trouble Aurora did with King," said Mr. Lundy.

"No," said Dr. Dales. "Everything we do to help the surrounding municipalities helps to make Newmarket a better town and we will co-operate with them in every way."

SAY CWAC EXPERIENCE HAS POST-WAR VALUE

One of the first questions a girl asks herself when contemplating enlistment in the Canadian Women's Army Corps is, "What security does the service offer for my employment in the post-war years?" The answer, and it's the best kind of an answer, is to be found in an interesting story of the Canadian Women's Army Corps.

"To the girl with experience in stenography the C.W.A.C. offers literally hundreds of important posts," say recruiting officers. These may range from orderly-room work, which is similar to general office work in civilian life, to an important post as confidential secretary to a colonel! In every one of these capacities the girl is doing the work she joined up for—releasing a soldier to proceed on the even more important job of fighting!

"To this girl her army experiences, contacts, travel and wider horizons will bring, after the war, a greater chance for advancement to a higher paid civilian job. The fair discipline, healthy life and the sparkle of adventure will set her above those who have not had these things as a C.W.A.C."

"To the girl with less experience and a limited ability in typing and stenography the Canadian Women's Army Corps offers excellent training in these subjects."

"In the army as in civilian life the girl who wants to learn will advance. If you are chosen for a clerk's course after your basic training, which, by the way, every girl labels as 'the most fun in four weeks she has ever had,' you will receive instruction in typing and stenography which will enable you to take a vital job in the army and will give you a 'nest egg' that will place you in a better paying job after the war."

"To these girls the army appeals, to put their abilities in the smart C.W.A.C. uniform and be part of the grand corps that is helping our boys all over the world to bring victory nearer."

"Besides stenographers and typists nearly 50 other posts are in need of C.W.A.C.'S to fill them. So, if you prefer another kind of work, don't let this stop you from getting all the information about the Canadian Women's Army Corps from the mobile recruiting unit which is in Newmarket today at the United church gymnasium, up to 9 p.m."

"Every post in the C.W.A.C. is a vital one—if you fill it—a soldier will be released for duty on the line. You'll look well in khaki!"

NOT COSSACK CAVALRY BUT HELP TO WIN

Even in a purely mechanized war poor old Dobbin still plays an important role in supplying the sinews of war from his home stable, pasture or paddock, says Agricultural Representative W. M. Cockburn. The hair of the tail and mane of the horse is much in demand by the munitions and supplies department for the manufacture of a great variety of products and unfortunately the sales of this commodity have dropped off a third during the past year.

Horse mane hair is used for such important war purposes as shock pads for the inside of army tanks, cushions for army vehicles and mattresses for the navy, says Mr. Cockburn. Horse tail hair is used to some extent for the above purposes, but, chiefly, for such important brushes as those used for cleaning barracks for all three services, hair brushes and cloth brushes for the three services and a veritable host of special machine brushes used for the production of vital army and munitions equipment.

One of the largest uses is for mixture with pure bristle in making paint brushes for the navy, army and air force, said Mr. Cockburn.

It is important that farmers and horsemen keep the hair free of straw or other foreign matter, he stated. This saves endless hours of labor in further preparation and permits a greater production because hair that is dirty can never be fully reclaimed. Mr. Cockburn suggested that farmers keep the mane and tail hair separate, as this again saves labor, each kind being used for different purposes. Some farmers tack up two labelled sacks in the stable for convenience and the hair is ready for the dealer when he calls.

"The best quality comes from live horses either during the daily grooming or when thinning out the mane or tail but the hair should also be salvaged from all dead horses," said Mr. Cockburn. "In other words, dead horses should carry no tails."

LIFE COMPANIES GIVE VICTORY LOAN BOOST

Reflecting the determination of their policyholders to "speed the victory," life insurance companies in Canada subscribed a record total of $170,000,000 to the fifth Victory loan. This brings the total life insurance investments in fighting dollars since the war began to over $775,000,000, an average of $200 for every insured person in the dominion.

"As in every other war loan," H. W. Manning, president of the Canadian Life Insurance Officers' Association, said this week, "life insurance companies, expressing the will of their millions of policyholders in Canada, again led all business groups in subscriptions to the record loan that has just been so successfully put over the top."

"In the two Victory loans this year these companies have invested $225,000,000, a sum that will exceed their total premium income from their policyholders during the whole of 1943 by more than 16 percent," Mr. Manning continued.

"Not only have the life insurance companies contributed so magnificently to their policyholders' account to back up Canada's fighting forces and bring victory appreciably nearer, but, as in other loan drives, the 2,000 experienced life insurance salesmen and saleswomen, made available to the government for canvassing, have been instrumental in securing many additional millions of subscriptions. In the spring loan this year they were credited with over $65,000,000. In this last loan the amount will not be less."

Reverting to the total of over $775,000,000 of war loan investments by the life companies, Mr. Manning concluded: "This huge sum of people's savings has had a threefold and vital significance in Canadian affairs. Primarily, it has backed our fighting men with munitions and equipment, ships and guns, planes and tanks, to hasten the unconditional surrender of our enemies."

"Secondly, these hundreds of millions of dollars saved out of individual incomes, through the exercise of personal thrift and economy, have been a powerful backstop against inflation. Finally, these many millions constitute a great financial reservoir for post-war and future emergencies. They are actually dollars held in reserve for the protection of our policyholders and their beneficiaries, dollars which form part of the total estate of over two and a quarter billions which these policyholders own in life insurance today."

The hair of the tail and mane of the horse is much in demand by the munitions and supplies department for the manufacture of a great variety of products and unfortunately the sales of this commodity have dropped off a third during the past year.

Horse mane hair is used for such important war purposes as shock pads for the inside of army tanks, cushions for army vehicles and mattresses for the navy, says Mr. Cockburn. Horse tail hair is used to some extent for the above purposes, but, chiefly, for such important brushes as those used for cleaning barracks for all three services, hair brushes and cloth brushes for the three services and a veritable host of special machine brushes used for the production of vital army and munitions equipment.

One of the largest uses is for mixture with pure bristle in making paint brushes for the navy, army and air force, said Mr. Cockburn.

"The best quality comes from live horses either during the daily grooming or when thinning out the mane or tail but the hair should also be salvaged from all dead horses," said Mr. Cockburn. "In other words, dead horses should carry no tails."

WHITCHURCH NOMINATION DAY SET FOR MONDAY, DEC. 27

The largest number of claims paid for sheep killed by dogs at any single meeting in several years was before Whitchurch township council on Saturday when nine separate claims were filed.

A saving feature was that no single claim was large. The total claims amounted to $180.

One claim, from J. A. Clarke, was for a young bull killed by dogs. Mr. Clarke said the animal's ears were chewed off and the hind quarters mutilated. The animal was valued by George Drury, and is the first claim in a year or more for cattle. On another occasion a dog or dogs attacked the sheep on the Clarke farm, killing one animal.

Previous claims paid this year totalled $271, so that the total thus far is low considering the large number of flocks attacked.

Clerk John Crawford reported receipts of $104 from the sale of hunting licenses, which was less than usual, no doubt on account of shortage of ammunition, and the busy year.

Payment of $10 each was made to the following deputy game wardens for two days attendance at the recent pheasant hunt: Chancy Connor, Jack Leary, Harold Dewbury, Percy Patterson, Ernest Davis, A. B. Bartholomew, George Hunt, Wilfrid Lundy, Parker Smith, Leslie Preston, Reuben Ireland, Herbert Pegg, Delmer Kidd, J. H. Widdfield, Robt. Windsor, and $5 to George Dewbury.

The council decided against buying any more snow fence this year. "We placed an order last spring for 5,000 additional feet to be delivered at this time, and I think that will do for the present," said Reeve George Leary. Councilors were in agreement on this point, and an offer from an agent to furnish additional fencing was declined.

Constable George Dewbury, having joined the armed forces, was granted leave of absence on motion of Deputy-Reeve Evans and Councillor Ed. Logan.

Councillor L. J. Harper introduced a resolution to increase the pay of the grader operator, Percy Patterson, from $2.50 to $3 per hour. The increase was passed by a unanimous vote. "He certainly should be paid the increased rate," commented Councillor Eugene Baker.

The road accounts totalled $49.80. Aurora fire brigade was paid $40 for attending a grass fire on Yonge St. at the Thompson farm opposite DeLaSalle college. Relief accounts totalled $33.29.

The annual election by-law was passed, setting as nomination day, Monday, Dec. 27. In case an election is demanded the poll will be taken one week later, Monday, Jan. 3.

Deputy returning officers and poll clerks were named as follows: Div. 1, Leslie White's house, lot 5, con. 2, B. Langley, Reg. Wood;

Mr. Brown had an objective of 65 sales and $15,000. He made 69 sales totalling $56,900.

HOLLAND LANDING SIX-YEAR-OLD BOY IS KILLED BY TRUCK

When returning from a visit to his grandmother, Mrs. Crawford Bellar, who lives on the west side of the No. 11 highway at Holland Landing, six-year-old Freddie Bellar was struck and killed by a truck on Monday.

The accident occurred within a hundred feet of his home. The youngster is said to have been rolling a hoop. He allowed a north-bound car to pass, and apparently failed to see until too late the south-bound truck which struck him.

The truck swerved but the youngster apparently jumped in the same direction.

Traffic Officer Alex. Ferguson said that the youngster was carried a considerable distance by the truck.

Surviving besides his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bellar, are one brother, Willis, and two sisters, Florence and Fern. Mr. Bellar is employed by a Toronto coal firm.

Rev. Newton Bowles conducted the funeral service at Roadhouse and Rose funeral chapel on Wednesday afternoon. Interment was in Queensville cemetery.

George Brotherton, Foxmead, Ont., was the driver of the truck.

A good crowd attended the funeral. David Smith was the winner of a box of groceries. D. Spezial and Nick Salynek were the winners of the men's euchre prize, and Mrs. Jack Thompson and Mrs. Earl Atkinson won the ladies' prizes. About $21 was realized for the cigarette fund.

The Holland Landing Red Cross recently finished packing 18 ditty bags. Mrs. S. C. Sheppard filled five ditty bags, which were sent to the Newmarket Red Cross to be forwarded.

Mr. Geo. Emery, Mrs. G. C. Reid and Mrs. R. Gillette, all of Hamilton, were guests over the weekend of Mr. and Mrs. M. Evans.

Mrs. A. Riley attended the funeral of an aunt, Mrs. Geo. Riley, at Coulson's Hill on Monday.

Must Have Discipline In Home and School - Visitor

An impressive Education week service was held in Aurora United church on Sunday evening with hundreds of pupils and parents present for the occasion. Under the direction of Iltyd Harris, both Aurora high school and public school choirs provided special music. Mendelssohn's "If With All Your Heart," Mozart's "Jesu Son of God," and Parry's "Jerusalem" were all beautifully rendered. Principal J. H. Knowles, Principal J. H. Knowles and Rev. Roy Hicks took part in the service. Principal J. W. Ansley of York Memorial Collegiate Institute, York township, was guest speaker.

"Education in its broadest sense is the process by which our youth is fitted to take its place in the society of mankind," declared Mr. Ansley. "We are using all our educational efforts today, especially in the field of science, towards winning the war."

"It will be just as important when peace comes to see that our efforts are as intensive, and that the same opportunity for knowledge exists. We adults have a task to see that the best of our culture in art, literature and science is made available to youth."

"We need to see that there is sufficient discipline both in the school and home that our children achieve the complete use of their faculties. Discipline is a training by which we co-ordinate ourselves to the world about us—it is mental rather than physical."

"Underneath all living is something spiritual. We must not lose sight of spiritual values. We must teach our children to remember that we don't live by bread alone. The home, the school and the church are the three main influences in the life of the child. We must see that there is harmony between all three."

DOMINION STORES PASS THE

400,000,000

DOLLAR MARK

What this means to DOMINION STORES CUSTOMERS

Only by serving the best interests of the public could such an imposing sales figure become a reality.

Four hundred million is a lot of anything. As Dominion Stores' 24-year business total, it represents billions of food items—located, purchased, transported, received, inspected, classified, priced, stocked and distributed to thousands of homes.

$400,000,000! An astronomical figure almost beyond the range of human imagination. Expressed as a few and a row of ciphers, it conveys mighty little. But, in terms of the advantages this huge volume makes possible, it means plenty.

Volume like this serves Canada. The vast and speedy distribution facilities of over 250 Dominion Stores are an invaluable service to the country. Within a minimum of hours Dominion Stores, cooperating with growers, rush fast-ripening foods to the consuming public. Thus our great food distributing organization, in helping to eliminate waste, is making "extra" amounts of food available.

Volume like this saves you money. So much food passes over our counters every day that we can afford a smaller margin of profit on every item, even after our volume buying and efficient store operation has given us substantially lower costs from the start.

Volume like this improves service. Because so many people buy so much at Dominion every day, our stores are planned and equipped by our own expert to help you get the things you want with the greatest ease and speed. Carefully-trained salespeople look after you with a courtesy and dispatch which are all the more remarkable under the wartime conditions of today.

Volume like this protects quality. Because stocks turn over quickly our foodstuffs are FRESH. Dominion Stores' expert buyers select only quality foods and Dominion Stores' specialized facilities protect that quality until you buy.

Dominion Stores are gratified to think that they have merited customer confidence to this vast extent.

Dominion Stores are even now post-war planning—planning more modern store facilities, more specialized training of sales people. Our aim is to give you a service that is constantly a step ahead of these progressive times.

vide the team with funds. We doubt if there is a better record of genuine community interest anywhere in Ontario.

Billiards, better known as "pool", and embracing under the main heading all the various types of games, at seasons like this and until spring at least forms a means of amusement to a good many fellows. We have watched with interest and unsuccessfully attempted to master more than one occasion what is known as English, or the spinning motion on the cue ball for difficult shots and escape from "snookers." So it was with some interest that we read the other day how this word came into common use. It seems that early in the 19th century an Englishman by the name of Jack Carr was the first to use "English." He called it "side" and worked it by chalking his cue. Those who saw him were astounded and Carr explained that he used magic chalk.
Naturally, the boys were interested in buying, and so Carr capitalized by selling boxes at around $2.50 each, netting himself enough ma-zuma to tour Spain, France and other countries where the fields were likewise green. Eventually someone ran out of the magic chalk, and used plain chalk, with the result that the same siding was obtained and Carr's "English" racket was snaffed.

Song theme for professional hockeyists this winter might well be (to paraphrase one of the modern swing bits), "I'm 4F with the draft board but I'm A1 on the ice."
Doug, Palmer of Maple, who for the past two years has played fine hockey for King City, and last summer played first base for Richmond Hill, has won himself a defence post in senior commercial hockey with Hower A.C. this winter, while Gar. Junkin, who plays for both Lindsay and Markham juniors against Aurora kids, has made a place with the color bearers of a tailoring concern.

Bert Turney, member of the championship Aurora R.C.O.C. club of last winter, is another well-known mercantile, as a member of tang lad, member of a well-known Armstrong, who played with Markham intermediates as they reached the O.H.A. finals in 1942, is a team-mate of Turney.

"Goose" Hewson, Harry Dick,
"Chirp" Brencley and Bill Makl are members of the army Shamrocks entry in the T.H.L. major circuit. This quartet, who at one time or another have been stationed at Newmarket camp, might well be members of the 23 B.T.C. entry this winter. Hewson, it will be remembered, wore the mask and decker for the 1913 Newmarket town hardball champions the past summer.

Billy Stewart, 17-year-old Penea shoe store team, while Art hockey clan, has turned professional at this winter and is playing for Providence Reds. Stewart is the first genuine Penetang boy to turn professional, although such fellows as the late Bert Corbeau and the late "Butch" Arbour came from near there or later resided there.

Doug, Hope, former catcher for Pine Orchard softballers and net-minder last winter for Roy Middle-brook's Aces in the Aurora town league, joins the ranks of the benedictines next Saturday. Doug, is stationed in Toronto with the R.C.A.F. and the bride-to-be is Miss Betty Dennis. The marriage takes place in Leaside.

Les, Beazer is a busy man these days as he whips the Aurora rink into shape for the coming season.
The arena floor, which since the time box lacrosse died out has been sadly neglected, has been levelled.
The side boards are in the process of being painted, and the dressing-rooms and booth made spick and span. Mr. Beazer knows the ice-making game from A to Z and plans to use every available hour possible as revenue producer to the town and himself. Fast freezing and care of the ice, a thing almost impossible in other years, since the town employees often had to be switched to other jobs, he believes will make more skating and a bigger revenue realities.

Figuring, carrying and the encouragement of pee-wee hockey, are other items that will receive Mr. Beazer's attention. We know from past experience how much he did for the "rink rats" at Ravina rink, and kid hockey should obtain some needed impetus.

Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Stickwood were dinner guests on Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Stickwood.
Mrs. Lorne Ganton spent Saturday in Toronto.

Accounts passed by the town council Monday evening included:

TWENTY-THREE
THIS WEEK

There was a meeting of the panel committee in the information room on Monday evening, Nov. 8. Plans were again discussed to show three films in the drill hall on the evening of Nov.
18. The films are titled "Kokoda and Milne Bay," "Inside Fighting China" and "The Mask of Nippon."
The visit to this centre of Dr.
Saunders of the University of Toronto was also discussed. Dr.
Saunders will speak to the regiment at 1500 hours on the afternoon of Nov. 16 on the general subject, "Russia," dealing particularly with Russian history.

It was also planned to start a hobby centre in the camp in the near future, since many of the men had expressed an interest in such a room.

On the evening of Nov. 9 "C" and "D" squadron basketball teams engaged in a first-of-the-season tussle in the drill hall which resulted in a victory for "C" squadron to the tune of 31 to 25.

Later on in the same evening
the troops watched the stage show,
"Victory Entertainers," in the drill hall.

On Nov. 12 the centre was honored by a visit from Col. Kilpatrick, director of army education, who presented his compliments to Col.
Young upon an educational effort on behalf of the men of this centre which is most encouraging, as the colonel put it. Col. Kilpatrick was accompanied by the district army education officer, Major Philmister.
At four o'clock in the afternoon of the same day the troops were addressed by Wm. Mandel, director of research for the American-Russian Institute in New York. Mr.
Mandel spoke most interestingly on aspects of Russian life as part of the fundamental training program of this centre.

On the evening of Nov. 11 the officers enjoyed a night of howling which is reported, as usual, by Renfrew:

Sad to say, the Ramrods were lucky to score another four points, their opponents (the Gunmen) being decidedly off color, "Doc" (Brains) Lindsey capturing the high three prize with a nice 631, the "Brains" being definitely in there.

Two newcomers, Mr. Carswell and Mr. Savole, bowled consistently and were a great asset to "Lucky" Richardson's Ramrods.
F. J. White, "the old contemptible," rolled in and out.

Woods' Orfuns garnered three points to keep well in the running.
This team seems to be well balanced, with Bishop, Eason, Bottrell, Strome and Large all in there punching for "Bill" Woods.

Morris' Moaners seemed to be out-lucked rather than outplayed.
"Rations" Oster collected high single for the night. Swayze got off to a bad start but overcame the "audience" and turned in two good games. "Bernice" Boyd overcame her handicap and bowled three nice games, in fact, far beyond the expectations of the "scorer." Campbell turned in a nice effort.

Kennedy's Kolts were out to do or die and Clarkson, Kennedy, Robinson, Yack and Cordingley had that grim look that looked like four points. Their first game was good, their second, well, they all had alibis. They perked up in the third and, as their opponents, Gillespie's gang, have yet to bowl—who knows!

was given permission, by the town council on Monday evening, to summons all dog owners who have him for which no owner had been found. He was instructed
